

Free AstroTarot Reading

Unlock the Answers You Seek With Divine Guidance from the Universe In Your Free AstroTarot Reading
From Fortune Alexander

Step 1: Click Your Two Cards

YES OR NO TAROT

Divination of the Tarot "Yes or No" - the method of conducting and the meaning of the arcana.

The easiest way of fortune-telling is the Tarot layout for "yes" or "no," which will help to clarify specific life circumstances. It is easy to guess from the name of the alignment that it aims to give clear answers and applies to any sphere of life. Thus, the fortuneteller can make the alignment for work, relationships, or other aspects of life. Fortune telling, yes or no, concerning the topic of lovers, is a reasonably accurate method to obtain predictions when divining relationships. The most important thing is to formulate the appeal to the cards correctly.

YES OR NO ORACLE

Of course, it is convenient to have Tarot cards with you, since in this case, you can ask a question free of charge and at any convenient time. But, if this is not possible, then there are two options - buy yourself a deck of cards or order a layout from a professional. Only one lasso is required to answer yes or no, and the interpretation takes place only on one card. The process diagram is simple. All you need to do is shuffle the deck, place it face down and take the card you like the most. Such fortune-telling can be done in two versions: on a whole deck or senior or minor arcana. The fortuneteller needs to choose the usual way or, if desired, master a new one.

Tarot layout yes - no is interpreted based on the position of the dropped card. It is customary to consider it both upright and upside down. When analyzing, it is necessary to take into account this difference in values. The interpretation of curly cards has a special meaning; for example, all Aces and Knights are always a positive answer; in this case, the position and suit of the card do not matter. But if the Page falls out, this means that the question was asked before the background of this event was formed; most likely, the event will change more than once.

YES OR NO WHEEL

Yes or No oracle predictions accurate

Jester

Answer: Unpredictable, not as you suppose now. To get what you want, you need to try something new or start from scratch. A non-standard approach will help in the situation. Perhaps she will require you to step into the unknown. Trust the circumstances and follow the signs.

MAG

Answer: You need to be active and outgoing to get a yes. Your passivity, inactivity, and stupidity will lead to the answer "no." The choice is yours. You have all the tools to bring the situation to the level of perfection. Show your mind, ingenuity in the matter, and all your skill. Become the magician of your life.

THE HIGH PRIESTESS

Answer: Yes, if you listen to your intuition. Not if you are now guided by logic and completely ignore your inner voice. Something about the development of the question requires mystery. The priestess encourages you to follow a passive path, bide your time, go with the flow, or get advice from a wise woman.

EMPRESS

Answer: Yes, if it is associated with femininity or sensuality. The solution to the situation must be creative and beautiful. It is more critical for you than ever to make big gestures towards others and learn to receive gifts, and be open to all the best. Card motto: live an abundant life and give your love to the world.

EMPEROR

Answer: Yes, you need perseverance and an authoritarian position. Not if you are hesitant or too arbitrary in the matter. The situation requires laying a solid foundation, planning, and determination in achieving the goal.

HIGH PRIEST

Answer: Yes, show compassion and mercy and traditionally do everything. Not. When it comes to innovation or something that transcends social rules and norms. Priest - a card of communication, transfer of experience, teaching. Perhaps you should adhere to specific moral values in the question, get advice from an older person, or look for an answer from spiritual sources.

LOVERS

Answer: Neither yes nor no. There is some duality in the situation or an alternative that at first glance seems to be equal. If it is connected with love issues - yes, if it is a decision of your heart. No - if the conclusion of your mind. In other areas, it is the same. The card advises you to follow the path that your heart tells you.

CHARIOT

Answer: Yes, but you must strive and win. Only pressure, only a winning strategy, only a desire to move forward towards new goals. Not if you do not control what is happening or give compensation in the question. The card advises you to take decisive actions, keep the situation under vigilant control, reconcile good and evil in yourself, not be afraid to conquer new horizons, and, if necessary, go on a road or journey, literally and figuratively.

FORCE

Answer: Yes, if you make a "Special" effort and curb your animal self. Not if you act too aggressively and recklessly, waste energy, indulge your instincts, or use a male strategy of behavior. Special efforts are gentleness, patience, "female strategies," the ability to tame through affection and unobtrusiveness, energy practices.

HERMIT

Answer: No, sort yourself out on this issue through solitude. Yes, if it concerns searching for the meaning of life, spiritual growth, or conscious loneliness. The card advises you to solve the issue alone or go in the solution on your own. Look for the meaning of what is happening within yourself, find a special place of "power," and indulge in reflections on the issue. The answer to the question is already in the depths of your soul.

WHEEL OF FORTUNE

Answer: a fateful event. Something must happen, a turn of the wheel of fortune on your question. Circumstances on the matter will still change. Here fate itself intervenes; little will depend on you in this situation. Ask a question on the same topic, reformulating it a little or clarifying the details. Often the Wheel of Fortune means luck and good fortune in the matter.

JUSTICE

Answer: Yes, if before that you did everything honestly on the issue, no - if in the situation you behaved unfairly. To even out the case, a weighing stage will be needed. It is essential that you feel harmonious on the issue or consider all the pros and cons and objectively assess the situation; its positive development will depend on this.

HANGED

Answer: No, the situation is changing. Yes, if you are willing to make sacrifices. Difficulties may arise on the question. You may feel in limbo. This is given to you to reassess your values and return to your true destiny for seekers and students - a period of assimilation of new knowledge, initiation, and dedication.

DEATH

Answer: Denial. Not for everything that is the same, old, familiar. Yes, if you are ready to mortify your old way of life and be reborn in a new quality. There may be a period of stagnation in the issue or a feeling of stopping life. This is necessary for change and transformation - only through this path will we resolve your issue.

MODERATION

Answer: Yes, but this question aside for a while and combine different approaches. Higher powers will take care of the execution of your ideas. Not if you are trying to solve your issue immediately or instantly and do not know the measures. In your question, time and some kind of life alchemy will play a huge role - the process of the gradual transformation of lead into gold.

DEVIL

Answer: Yes, to all questions about material well-being, about sex, whether there is deception and addiction. Your question is essential to you. The devil symbolizes rock; this manifests the dark side of your personality or other people. In the material world, he is auspicious, but be careful not to get into bondage or bondage; you may become a squirrel in a wheel.

TOWER

Answer: Strong denial. No, it will fail or not. Be attentive to the heart of the matter. The tower symbolizes a restriction and, at the same time, force majeure, leading to destruction. It is a kind of painful cleansing, a magic pendel from the Universe. "Yes" only if you are ready to destroy your life to create a new one.

STAR

Answer: Yes, have a lot of faith and hope. Not if deeds or actions do not support your dreams. The question can come true if you believe in its fulfillment. The star is one of the best cards that promises the support of higher powers, joy, "starry" times. And at the same time, he advises not to stand still in achieving your dreams, show off your talents, and start a hobby.

MOON

Answer: Uncertain. Yes, if the question is about magic, imagination, creation of illusions. Otherwise, the Moon advises you to delve into your subconscious; some inner fear or doubt accompanies your question. There are moments of some self-deception or deception on the part of others. The question may also lack clarity and clarity.

THE SUN

Answer: Yes, but it is essential to sparkle, to show your sunny side, to be in the center of events. A happy development is expected in the question. It is also essential for you to remain true to your authentic self, not to pose, not to be selfish. There is someone who needs your light. For the issue to be resolved in your favor, strive for fame and success, earthly happiness.

COURT

Answer: Yes, if you update your outlook on life or your appearance. In any case, the card symbolizes transformation and lasting changes, which in the end, perhaps starting with tears or pain, bring long-awaited changes to life and tell a happy stage in life. The experience that happens on your issue will change you and the quality of your life.

PEACE

Answer: Yes, and this will complete something important in your life. Perhaps this will be a whole life stage; maybe it will be a well-deserved point in something. Also, the card may answer "yes" if you do everything peacefully, count on rewards, or are ready to expand your horizons and opportunities, travel, go a long distance.

YES OR NO TAROT - SWORDS

ACE OF SWORDS

Answer: Yes, if it concerns the approval of the official authorities, a breakthrough in a situation, or release from it. A map of sharpness, tremendous power will accompany your question. If you have analyzed everything, have the power of words, clarity of consciousness, are ready to fight, convince, become an independent person - the outcome is favorable.

2 SWORDS

Answer: Dead end. The card cannot answer "yes" or "no" due to the presence of contradictions and conflict within you or in connection with the question being asked. Perhaps you desire one thing with your mind, but your heart is drawn to another way of solving the issue. The card advises to reconcile these dualities and ask the question again later.

3 SWORDS

Answer: No, because you are not living according to your heart. Yes, only if you have chosen the path of the heart, which is often not approved by your environment. There is fear about the issue, which prevents you from trusting yourself; because of this, you will be mentally tormented by the topic of the problem. The card advises to "think with the heart," not with the head.

4 SWORDS

Answer: No, it is crucial to recover; there is not enough strength and energy to resolve the issue. Yes, occasionally in case of a question: "Do you need to take a break on your topic." The card advises not to waste energy on the issue yet, to isolate oneself from its solution.

5 SWORDS

Answer: A sharp no. Any desire to resolve this issue at the moment can lead to destructiveness and destruction. It is vital to keep face and humanity in resolving the issue. Perhaps you have to reconsider your approach to resolving the issue and change your anger to mercy, cool down, calm down, be more humane with others and yourself in the first place.

6 SWORDS

Answer: Yes. If you are ready to overcome difficulties and strive for a new shore. Not if you leave everything as before. Everything will be fine when a desire to learn new things arises in your soul in connection with your question, not to be afraid to "swim across the river," to "master the virgin lands," to study yourself and the world around you.

7 SWORDS

Answer: The unpredictability of the situation. Perhaps the question contains a catch, or it will happen in the future, in connection with the solution of your question. The card warns about going beyond the stereotype, the originality of the answer to the issue, and even the usual fraud and deception. If this is not you, be extremely careful.

8 SWORDS

Answer: No, this will not happen due to certain restrictions in the situation. Perhaps your vision of the issue does not consider the general picture; you do not know. Instead, you are not looking for a way out of the situation, preventing you from getting rid of your limitations. You should allow yourself more, give yourself more freedom in actions, break the framework, go beyond the boundaries of your current position.

9 SWORDS

Answer: No, but it can be associated with experiences. There is a feeling of guilt or resentment about the question that prevents you from enjoying the joys in life. Perhaps you need forgiveness, or you should forgive and let go of the past, get rid of negativity, remove various foreign influences from yourself, and stop feeling bad about yourself and others.

10 SWORDS

Answer: Strong denial. The card replies "no" in a raised tone. Perhaps the situation requires a sharp step, some point over me, a break or destruction. Be aware, because the card is not the easiest, it is a symbol of violence. If this is not violence against oneself and not a play of circumstances, a painful breakthrough in the issue is possible, again at the cost of pain and suffering.

PAGE OF SWORDS

Answer: No, in a refusal form. The Page of Swords symbolizes the state of your mind when you are at the peak of your intellectual capabilities, but also when you suspect, doubt, wind yourself up, harbor resentment, or think negatively about the issue.

KNIGHT OF SWORDS

Answer: No, but through a conflict, scandal or trouble. The topic of your question in the future may succumb to criticism, or it is a state of self-flagellation, cruelty to yourself and others. "Yes" only if the question concerned matters related to military craft.

QUEEN OF SWORDS

Answer: Yes, if it is related to the business sphere or with an intelligent, independent woman, also if you are asking about loneliness. Not if your question was about marriage or being in a relationship (due to the intervention of another woman, or your hatred of the opposite sex, excessive independence, fears, inner pain, desire for revenge).

KING OF SWORDS

Answer: Yes, if it depends on an intelligent, educated man if you subject the situation to analysis, are inclined to fight, show eloquence, weigh everything well, wait for the approval of the official authorities. No, when the case is connected with a man, which behaves harshly and two-faced on this issue, and if you act in this way.

YES OR NO TAROT - BOWLACE OF CUP

Answer: Yes, especially to questions of a loving nature. Not if you are not ready for new feelings and emotions. This is a further significant round in the issue, an update in terms of feelings and emotions, an opportunity to love and be loved, just a chance to resolve the issue in a new way. In other areas, the card is favorable because it carries a powerful positive energy that accompanies the question.

2 CUP

Answer: Yes, it is about reciprocity, love, dating, developing a romance or significant relationship. In other areas, it portends a relationship that warms with its warmth. Occasionally not, but only if there is no reciprocity in your relationship or the topic of the issue. Someone only takes, not wanting to give, someone only gives, not knowing how to receive.

3 CUP

Answer: Yes, in an atmosphere of fun and celebration. Not if you lead a too wild lifestyle or are afraid to be more cheeky and joyful in the topic related to the question. The card advises to smile and rejoice, start a holiday, take the matter more fun.

5 CUP

Answer: No. Perhaps the solution to the question will be associated with pain or a condition of rupture and loss of what is dear to your heart or to which you are firmly attached. Occasionally, this is the answer "yes" to questions about the appearance of people with whom you have been closely emotionally connected in the past.

6 CUP

Answer: Yes. Especially when it comes to the sphere of feelings, sentimental mood, memories of the past, people, objects, and places from your past. And no, if you are asking about something new for yourself, here the card tells you to break with your past for the sake of your future.

7 CUP

Answer: Free yourself from illusion. Reframe the question. The card answers "yes" only if you have decided what you want to do on the issue, you have a clear plan and vision of the situation. But more often, she warns that you are mistaken in connection with your question, that you are wearing rose-colored glasses or that you have lost your honest assessment of the situation.

8 CUP

Answer: No. To get the answer "yes" to your situation, you must be ready to step into the unknown, completely abandon your old way of life, and leave. Often the card is associated with a reassessment of values, with the loss of ideals, but at the same time, a new opportunity to start life anew.

9 CUP

Answer: Yes. The card is associated with the fulfillment of desires. So if your question was about a negative topic, the answer is also yes. Be afraid of your expectations - they can come true. Different projections with which you fill the reality around you can materialize and check if there is any negative. In general, the card portends a favorable outcome.

10 CUP

Answer: Yes, especially if the question concerned the topic of happiness, relationships with loved ones, the place where you live, family well-being. "No" only in exceptional cases; basically, the answer is yes, even if with a lesser degree of bringing the question to life. The card advises striving to be happy regardless of the surrounding circumstances.

PAGE OF CUPS

Answer: Yes. Especially about feelings, gifts, falling in love, a loved one. If you sincerely love, do not conceal evil, expect only a favorable development of the issue, you should not worry. Pay close attention to which emotions you are generating into outer space. If you are guided by jealousy, resentment, betrayal, desire for revenge - get ready to receive a returning boomerang.

KNIGHT OF CUPS

Answer: Yes, if you are in the mood for romance and filled with reasonable expectations. Also, the development of the question may depend on the person who has feelings for you or on who you are not indifferent to. Foreshadows the play of emotions, the development of events at the level of feelings. Everything will be fine if you are sincere with yourself about your issue.

QUEEN OF CUP

Answer: Yes, if you are ready to listen and listen to the question, and trust the situation if it depends on a close woman with a soft, playful character. Not if you do it with the help of hysteria, emotional blackmail, or often change your mood if the question depends on a woman with an unstable psyche.

KING OF CUPS

Answer: Yes, if you will provide help and support in the matter, or it is connected with a noble, understanding man. Not if you lie about the issue, experience negative emotions, and indulge your addictions, also if it is associated with a man that behaves accordingly.

YES OR NO TAROT - PENTACLES

ACE OF PENTACLES

Answer: Yes. One of the best cards. Good luck and luck in the matter. If the question is negative, the card also answers "yes" because it means a complete statement. However, don't jump to conclusions. This card does not fall out by chance and may be significant in your question. Perhaps, having burned yourself on the topic of your question, you will receive happiness and good luck from where you did not expect at all.

2 PENTACLES

Answer: Yes and no. Map of small changes on the issue. The situation will still change from negative to positive and vice versa. Also, the development of the case will not be in a stable state; it is vital to apply flexibility, communication skills, and the ability to adapt to circumstances in time to solve it.

3 PENTACLES

Answer: Yes, if you apply the skill. The falling out of the card symbolizes advanced training on the issue, the state of the architect of his destiny, the ability to re-plan the problem's topic and enlist a partnership in resolving the issue. "No," only if you are frankly messing around on the subject of the question.

4 PENTACLES

Answer: Yes, but you are too clinging to the topic of the question. Therefore, in the future, there is a risk of losing stability and reliability on the issue, perhaps you need to learn to let go of some things or people, to be kinder, or vice versa, to strive for solid ground under your feet, but not to be too conservative with others and yourself.

5 PENTACLES

Answer: No, only through a crisis. This is a map of incompatibility, discomfort, loss of something valuable to you; the reason is the loss of stability connected with a spiritual source or your higher self. It is essential to understand that your internal state dictates external discomfort; it is worth taking a risk and literally visiting a temple or holy place.

6 PENTACLES

Answer: Yes, but it's important to share in a great and reciprocal way. The map assumes mutual exchange, constant acceptance, and return on the topic of the issue. Therefore any violation of the circulation (feelings, money, etc.) will lead to stagnation and imbalance. The card is associated with money and debt and answers "yes" to this subject, except for those moments when you receive fair retribution from Destiny.

7 PENTACLES

Answer: Yes. If you wait and be patient. The natural course of events is essential. Not. If the issue is expected to be resolved right here and now, there is a rush or dissatisfaction with what has been done. Another name for the card is "harvesting," and, as you know, you need to grow it. Take your time with the implementation of the issue, go through all the stages - and you will reap a bountiful harvest.

8 PENTACLES

Answer: Yes, but you have to work hard or work by hand. If you do not want to work hard on the issue, do something to implement it and do it efficiently. Often the card symbolizes ordinary human labor, certain efforts, which are essential for solving the better.

9 PENTACLES

Answer: Yes. The card is associated with material success, physical attractiveness, luxury, good game, prestige. She can also answer "yes" to hostile questions, so it is essential to understand that such an answer was born out of problems with your belief in your success, fear of money and wealth, as well as because of insecurity and disrespect for yourself.

10 PENTACLES

Answer: Yes. This rich material card promises complete satisfaction with your question. Bestows benefits and wealth. she can also answer "yes" to questions on negative topics. The problem should be looked for in the loss of connection with her family, separation from the roots, and undeveloped elements of the earth: in the absence of stability, her laziness, frivolity, superficiality.

PAGE OF PENTACLES

Answer: Yes. If you are ready to comprehend new experience in your question. Not if you think you already know everything about your question and are not in the mood for learning and learning. The card encourages questions about a new business or project, advises you to be more diligent in the matter, and increases your level of qualifications and skill.

KNIGHT OF PENTACLES

Answer: Yes, gradually. No, if you are too passionate about the question, want it quickly and now, or are incompetent and short-sighted in the subject of the question. Tune in to the turtle's pace and do everything thoroughly. You must become someone you can rely on or strive for a person who will support your question. The motto of the card: you need to hurry slowly.

QUEEN OF PENTACLES

Answer: Yes, if the question is about a caring, reliable woman, related to your ability to grow, prosper and save money, to have children, or to get married. No, if you are too calculating, insensitive, impatient, and superficial about the topic of the question, looking for entertainment at one time, or the solution to the issue depends on the same woman.

THE KING OF PENTACLES

Answer: Yes, if your question is related to material stability, depends on a reliable sober man, or concerns the possibility of materializing your plans into reality. Not if you are looking for passion, adventure, ease, speed of execution of your dreams, or if the question is related to a man who shows greed or possessive interest.

YES OR NO TAROT - Wands

ACE OF WANDS

Answer: Yes, it is only necessary to start all over again and with great enthusiasm. Not if you are unsure of yourself or afraid to take the first step. The card calls on to immediately bring the topic of the question to life. The Ace of Wands is a chance, a potential that can grow to something worthwhile in the future.

2 OF WANDS

Answer: Yes, only if you can agree. The outcome of the question depends on your talent of the interlocutor, on the ability to insist on your own, and at another moment to obey in time. A struggle of interests, manifestations of a position of power is possible.

3 OF WANDS

The answer is yes; everything will work out. Resolving the issue promises mental and material success. No - in a single case, if you made a mistake at the very beginning of the development of the question or as a result of interference from the outside. This is a positive card.

4 OF WANDS

Answer: Yes, it is only vital to calm down, relax or take a break from the question itself. An essential theme of the card is all types of holidays and time spent in nature. Its second name, "peaceful haven," promises a favorable outcome to the issue. The card answers "no" only when you have driven yourself into a state of depression or pessimism in the question.

5 OF WANDS

Answer: Equal chances of yes and no. Keywords of the card: wrestling, competition, fight club. Perhaps your question is about other people who will actively defend their interests, creating a spirit of competition. Join this fight and enjoy the adrenaline rush.

6 OF WANDS

Answer: Yes. And often undeservedly. Expect good news on the issue. One of the best cards, therefore, its influence is moments of joy, good news, reconciliation, and success. If you asked a question on a negative topic, the card could fulfill your expectations and attitudes. Change them to positive ones before it's too late.

7 OF WANDS

Answer: Yes, if you insist on your own, no, if you give up or stop struggling with obstacles on the issue. The card symbolizes problems and people who get into things, because of which they do not get along. Remember that the second name of this card is "strong stance," which means that you still have gunpowder in the flasks to get what you want, to get it.

8 OF WANDS

Answer: Yes, if you follow the wind on the matter, and no - if against the wind. The card means the rapid development of the situation, but haste does not always lead to favorable results. So take a good look at your sail and how it fits into the movement of the wind. It also means all kinds of speeds.

9 OF WANDS

Answer: Unlikely, due to experience. There is a previous bitter experience on the issue, which dictates you the fear of stepping on the same rake: anxiety or apprehension, a state of tension. You have a solid potential to resolve the issue, but you are in no hurry to use it; negative attitudes interfere.

10 OF WANDS

Answer: Yes, but with difficulty. We'll have to shoulder an additional burden on the issue. Resolving the problem can be difficult or with increased responsibility. If you decide to encroach on more for yourself, the question is related to the satisfaction of ambitions - yes, but it will be a heavy burden.

PAGE OF WANDS

Answer: Yes, and it will bring adventure and novelty into your life. Not if you are not ready for new experiences. The Page of wands advises to start anew on the question and be more mobile and mobile. Apply your organizational skills and different talents.

KNIGHT OF WANDS

Answer: Yes, but there is a possibility of not completing the question or quickly burning out. The motto of the card: strike while the iron is hot. It is essential to do everything right here and now since the question may lose its relevance in the future.

QUEEN OF WANDS

Answer: Yes, if it is associated with a bright, active, loving woman, entrepreneurship and career growth, flirting. No, if you are without initiative and external gloss, the question is accompanied by cunning and intrigue, or you are not adventurous and not active in the matter. It is essential to be in the spotlight and to keep the lead in the issue.

KING OF WANDS

Answer: Yes, if it depends on an influential man, is associated with social success and leadership, a man is a conqueror of hearts. No, if it depends on an empty, selfish person, or you promise too much of what to do outside of the seeds, then there is a risk of failure of projects and ideas. In general, the card is positive.